JOHN C. STETSON BIBLE

Present owner - Susan Abby Stetson North (Mrs. Charles Ray)
Address - Bond, Mississippi

Bible published by - New York Bible Society

Date copied - January 21, 1958.

Note: This is one of the most interesting Bibles I have ever copied because of the present owner's love for Mississippi. Her father, John C. Stetson, was in charge of the mill at Bond, Mississippi, when Bond was a small town. After the mill burned, Mrs. North wanted to remain in Mississippi. She still lives in the house that her father built. The home is filled with lovely furniture and china, and the floors are solid maple. Mrs. North is an artist and has painted the walls of her living room with scenes of the seasons of the year. I asked her where she got the idea and she said that when the Saenger Theatre in New Orleans had its opening she was there. She noticed that the ceiling had stars in it and when she returned home, she put stars in her ceiling. The idea came to her to paint the walls with the scenes of the seasons of the year.

Mrs. North made her debut and bow before the Queen of England. Mississippi meant more to her than the social world. Her father and husband are buried near by on the grounds of her home. She lives there alone in the piney woods of Mississippi, that she loves so much. She is 81 years old.

Mr. Riley's mother is the Ida C. Cole (born 1858) mentioned in this Bible record.

William Cole, original owner of the Bible, owned 840 acres along Cole Creek - this land is now owned by Mr. J. H. Note: Adams Church, formerly known as Adams Campground, was organized in 1811 by a group of South Carolinians who came to Amite County between 1809 and 1812. It was probably the first Methodist Church organized in this entire section. In 1815, the 3rd Mississippi Methodist Conference was held at Adams and in March 1936 the historical event was commemorated by the placing of a marker by the Mississippi Conference Historical Society. The marker was given by Dr. Henry Flowers, a grandson of two of the founders of Adams Church and by Dr. Lloyd Decell who was later the Bishop of the Methodist Church in Mississippi.

Among the earliest members of this church were - John and Harriet Smith Adams, William and Pamela Smith Adams, Henry and Nancy Adams Flowers, John and Elizabeth Adams Obier, Joanna Adams (the matriarch of the Adams family), James Adams, Burkitt and Mary Adams Thompson, Jacob and Susannah Adams Halford, the Kings, Crossleys, Carruths, Westbrooks, Tarvers, Haigoods, Turners, Terrells, Geralds, and Smiths. Mrs. Bufkin, under whose supervision this cemetery record was made, is a descendant of the Carruths and of the Kings. - Mary Louise Flowers Hendrix.

Note: Nimrod Davis (died 1/12/1862) was born 5/27/1799 on a plantation near Charleston, S. C.; married 2/22/1820 Mrs. Sarah (Sallie) Brownlee Ellis, a young widow, daughter of John Brownlee. She was born 9/15/1800 in S. C.

Nimrod Davis migrated to Monroe County, Mississippi and settled there. He had grants of land; purchased other tracts and became wealthy. His lands were in what became Lowndes County in 1830. He was elected first sheriff of Lowndes County; was Colonel of the Militia and a member of the Baptist Church. After the death of his wife, he married 2nd, Mrs. Cynthia Carr (b. 1802 in Ky.). He died at his home in Columbus, Miss. in 1862, and was buried in the graveyard of his original plantation, where his first wife had been buried. His will, probated in 1863, is filed in Will Book #1, folder #94, in Lowndes County, Miss.

His grandfather, William Davis, born March 1750 in Craven County, S.C., served in the Revolutionary War as Captain of Volunteers 1775-1776, St. David's Parish, S. C., with Col. Powell's Regiment. William Davis married 1768, Susan Mary Dunham, whose father was a Revolutionary soldier.

Nimrod's great grandfather, Benjamin Davis, born 7/17/1719, in Merion Township, Penn., was a Revolutionary soldier and patriot; he had 7 sons in the Revolutionary War. Benjamin was a member of the Militia for 30 years. During the Revolutionary War he was often called out against Tory raids, which were very prevalent in that section of S. C. He died 9/27/1797 and is buried in the family burying ground near Little Pee Dee Landing, S. C.

The original Davis ancestor in America came from Wales; the name there was "David" and was changed to Davis after the family came to America. Ref: "The Davis Family in Wales and America," by Major Harry Alexander Davis, 316 Shepherd St., N. W., Washington, D. C.
